FIRE FIGHTING MACHINERY

CHIEF SLAUGHTER WANTS NEW EQUIPMENTS PURCHASED. MEANS THOUSANDS.

Chief Slaughter of the fire department has received a letter from the chief of the fire department of Akron, Ohio, telling of the work they were doing there with the motor fire wagons which they have just installed. The first work they did was to make a run of one and a half miles, lay two lines of hose of two hundred feet each and had water on the fire in three minutes and forty-five seconds after leaving the fire station. The chief states in the letter that this run was made over a sandy road, where he had often been compelled to double his teams in order to pull through with the old apparatus.

Chief Slaughter is in favor of Ardmore getting this kind of fire fighting apparatus. He says it will save the city the expense of two or three firemen and the expense of caring for the horses and would enable the firemen to do much better work and would mean a saving of thousands of dollars to the people of Ardmore in fire losses. Chief Slaughter has been talking up to date fire fighting apparatus to the councilmen and says that they all seem to favor his plan. It is to be hoped that Ardmore will soon be equipped with the best fire fighting apparatus in the new state.

FARMER FOREIGNERS

MISS KATE O'BRIEN WAS HERE WITH SIX MEN FROM OLD COUNTRY.

Mrs. Kate O'Brien was here today from Russell. She was accompanied here by a party of foreigners who came home with her from her recent visit to New York. The immigration agent allowed Mrs. O'Brien to go among the foreigners and select the ones she wanted. All those she brought are fine looking educated men and they have gone into contract with her to cultivate the land. Each foreigner will be given a number of acres to cultivate, she will furnish him with teams and feed and tools and he needs no investment to succeed in farming. Her lands are located in the Washita bottoms and are very fertile. Mrs. O'Brien will bring several more of these people. She wants as many as thirty farmers from the old country. She is now building one common barn for all the farms and it will be the largest in the state. Those who accompanied Mrs. O'Brien to Ardmore yesterday were Richard Lee of Westfalla, D. H. Plaskaky of Hungary, H. Giesler of East Prussia, J. Jokst of Switzerland, Henry Lensen of Rheinland and Fed Palm of Brandenburg.

Police Court.

Business in police circles were considerably quieter yesterday than it was the morning after the show, only four cases being up before the judge. The first on the docket was "Blonde" Garner, an ebony hued damsel of the east side, who is a "blonde" in name only. Blondie was charged with being full of "coke" and creating a disturbance by using vulgar and profane language towards another "cuddled" lady. She pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars, which she paid. The other cases on the docket were against some parties who had failed to work the streets or to pay the three dollars to keep them from working the streets. The cases were dismissed or rather passed until later as the parties charged said that they could get a certificate from a physician showing that they were exempt from such duties.
